Dive in and take your career to new depths at the Blue Reef Aquarium Tynemouth!

About the Role

Alongside offering excellent customer service, you will be responsible for maintaining and developing displays and exhibits-promoting public education and awareness in relation to conservation and delivering a memorable and entertaining experience to visitors. Experience in animal husbandry is essential. This is a hands on role and will include caring for over 40 exhibits, including Primates, Otters and Harbour Seals as well as hundreds of species of marine life.

As part of the Zoological team, you will ensure all livestock displays are well presented and maintained. You will also be responsible for promoting and participating in public presentations, tours, birthday parties and education sessions, as well as conversing with visitors whilst carrying out your daily duties around the aquarium. It's essential therefore that you enjoy and are just as confident working Front of House as you are working behind the scenes.

This is a full time, permanent position for which it is essential that you are available to work during weekends, bank holidays and school holidays.

About You

You will already have relevant experience in the visitor attractions sector working with marine fish and invertebrates and have knowledge of aquarium life, support systems and enjoy working in a fast paced environment.

You will have an infectious enthusiasm for creating stunning and innovative displays and be keen to share knowledge with colleagues and visitors. A degree or equivalent in a relevant biological science is advantageous.

You will have a positive attitude and thrive in a customer focused environment. You need to adapt to a variety of situations and have a 'hands on' attitude and be able to respond to customers needs while promoting all aspects of our aquarium. You will have excellent communication skills having the ability to retain and present key and interesting information about our attraction.
